Some features of the Gospel of Mark:

In what is classed as Ordinary Time in this Year B we will travel in the company of St Mark. His Gospel of 16 chapters is the shortest. Mark is described as the 'interpreter' of Peter. There is some disagreement as to whether or not the Gospel was written before or after Peter's death c. 65.A.D. Rome is favoured as the location; reference to persecution seems to confirm this opinion. It is a Gospel written with a deep awareness of human suffering. In 1½ Chapters Mark gives five instances of human suffering: possessions, fever, leprosy, and paralysis In proclaiming the reign of God, Jesus is confronted by the spirit of evil ref. Ch 1: 21-28. In liberating this man Jesus is revealing the Presence & power of God...This is Good News...Jesus brought calm and tranquility. He is seen to speak with authority:

- ◆ He recognises evil
- ◆ He has power over evil
- ◆ He can and he wishes to release people from evil; the kingdom of God breaking into human life.

In practical terms this is very much the concern of St. Mark- the human plight or human condition, which is so fully shared by Jesus.

The focus is on Jesus 'the Suffering Servant.'
